Inspiration: Celestial geometry meets light in motion

Patty Madden Halo draws its creative breath from cosmic rings, shimmering atmospheric light, and the fluid, continuous movement of interlocking geometric orbits. It translates these celestial phenomena into a structured layout that captures the essence of light in motion. Halo - to distinguish high-traffic and public spaces with the unmistakable presence of visionary style.

Commercial Performance: Durability Meets High Design

Halo offers the ideal fusion of high-end luxury and engineered durability making it exceptionally suited for demanding commercial environments. Its high performance construction ensures long-term aesthetic preservation in spaces that experience constant foot traffic and physical wear.
